The Poor Man's Evening Hymn.

BY WILLIAM JONES.

God of the poor man! hear us, Thou giver of all good! At this our meal be near us-Bless, bless our humble food! We have been toiling through the day, Sleep hangs upon each brow! But through the dim night hear us pray, Look down and bless us now!

God of the poor man hear us, As thus on bended knee, For all thou hast decreed us, We praise and glory Thee! Thy hands that made the wealthy, Unmake them at thy will; They made us strong and healthy, May we remain so still !

God of the poor man! listen To those whose all is gone, To those whose eyelids glisten, With sorrow deep and lone! Oh! answer, we beseech Thee, Their broken, anguish'd pray'r; Let their dark woes first reach Thee, Thên beam on us now here!

God of the poor man! lowly His heart with love doth heat; He hath no gift more holy To deck the mercy seat ! Take it, Our Father! though it be Shaded with earthly sin ; Nought else has he to offer Thee-Oh! Make it right within!

God of the poor man! shining Amidst his little cot, Though fortune be declining, With Thee, how bright his lot! Guard now the night before us,-Let quiet slumber come; Spread, spread Thy mantle o'er us, And bless the poor man's home Park Holland was an honest, a benevolent, an amiable man,-the British were the only enemies he ever had. In a selfish, grasping generation, he has been almost like an Oasis in the desert—his sympathies, his heart and his hand have been always with the poor and the suffered by the poor.

While capable of labor he was an uncommonwitness the closing scene., 'Call no man happy ly active and industrious man of the most simple and unustentations manners, always ready for any good work,

During the last ten years of his life, in consequence of the natural effects of age, and several successive unfortunate accidents, by which he lost the sight of one of his eyes and had an arm so desirable an event: that the Tyler party in that broken, he had become almost entirely helpless. Misstatements Corrected.

One of the great issues in the present presidential canvass, is, whether the policy of protecting home labor by an adequate tariff shall be continued or abandoned. This issue all the loco papers with which we are acquainted, with only one exception, clearly, and boldly declare. This issue Mr Van Buren has himself made in his letter to Mr Ritchie. All the Whig papers with tion of known facts is equivalent to a known which we are acquainted represent this to be one falsehood. ot the issue in the canvass. The speeches in Congress against the policy of protection and the present tariff have been made by members of the loco party, while those in favor of protection, and in defence of the present tariff have been made by Whig members. These facte are nocal affairs of the times can mistake in this matter. Indeed there is a very general agreement between the two great parties of the country that this is one of the issues; and both parties sustain with more or less ability "their reasons, the one in favor of protection and the other against; the one in favor of the present tariff, the other against. In proof of this we could easily quote from both sides a mass of proof such as no reading government ONE HUNDRED sonable and honest man could resist.

It is a matter of astonishment with us that in view of these glaring facts, any man making pretensions to common intelligence and common honesty, or who has the slightest regard for his reputation, should attempt, at any time, or for any purpose, to make it appear that there is no such issue between the two great political parties in the country as protection or no protection, in favor of sustaining the present tariff or opposed to it. Yet such is the fact as all can attest who attended the "Liberty party" caucus on Thursday evening and listened to the speech of Mr Wakefield. He attempted to make it appear that the policy of protection as embodied in the present tariff was not a Whig measure because the bill in its passage did not receive all the Whig votes and did receive a number of loco votes. This reasoning is perfectly jesuitical because the speaker well knew that although the bill passed in one of its stages in the House by a majority of only two votes and in the affirmation were twenty loco votes, yet that the venerable John Quincy Adams and several other Whig members finding their votes were not essential to the passage of the bill, voted against the bill, not from hostility to the protective features of the bill, but on account of the amendment on the subject of distribution made to accommodate John Tyler, that it might go through without his veto. But as it was, even with so strong a | lars! ! temptation to the Whigs not to gratity the dictatorial spirit, for so it seemed to many, of John Tyler, eighty two Whigs yielded up their personal dislike to this feature and voted for the bill. Twenty locos and three Tyler men only, voted in favor of the bill. Opposed to it were sixty five Locos, thirty five Whigs and three Tyler

The Locos who voted for the bill were from Pennsylvania, Massschusetts, and New York where the local interests are so strongly in tavor of protection as to ride over all party views; while the Whigs in the negative, thus voted, not from dislike to the doctrine of protection but for the reasons already given and for some objections to the details, which however would have been overcome and their votes changed had this been necessary for the passage of the bill. On the final passage of the bill coming before the House on a motion of Mr Clifford to lay the Senate amendments on the table there were 65 yeas and 120 nays and against so strong a vote no man was quite mad enough to expect an advantage from a close vote and the bill finally passed by acclamation.

In the Senate there were twenty four for the tariff four of which were locos, two of them from Pennsylvania, in which State, as we have before said, all parties are in favor of protection. Opposing the Bill there were twenty three, nine of whom were Whigs. The question as all intelligent men know was objectionable to many Whigh, although they were in favor of protection, on account of the bill being passed to suit the mere whim of John Tyler Had it been necessary to have carried a protective tariff bill, is no doubt they would have so voted.

This brief view of the history of the passage of the tariff and the present and past advocacy of the doctrine of protection must, it appears to us, satisfy every person that the Whig party can and confinuing the policy of protection. It is idle for any one to pretend otherwise. It is atrociously wicked for any man acquainted with inhabitants of Jacmel were under arms. political opinions and acts, for whatever purpose. to impose upon a public assembly, an argument of affected seriousness, that the Whig party is Kay's bill. This is making a large use of that More of the Van Buren National Convenvote, an unjustifiable use, as the speaker who introduced it, well knew. That vote indicated one fact among others of some importance, and didate should receive two thirds of the ballots which is very apparent, particularly among the before being declared nominated. whigs at the South, that the favorable opinion | Van Buren, 146 127 121 111 103 101 99 of the tariff is increasing, on account of its good Cass. effects as seen in the business of the country.--But the vote laying Mr McKay's bill on the table, was the result of a combination of local, political, presidential, and other considerations of expediency that place it out of the line of proofs that those who so voted are the friends of a protective tariff. So it will be seen and acknowledged by those who are clear headed and honest hearted.

We wave noticed this matter at some length, because we are led to believe that a plan is on foot to misrepresent the whig party in this mat ter before the country. All we ask-all we desire is that the whig party may be understood by the people, and then we have no fear of their measures being condemned. We insist upon it that the opponents of the whigs, whatever name or shape they take, ought not to misrepresent them. We insist upon it that a misrepresenta-

The servant girls, this way, would whip such a stupid creature to death with their garters if he should insist upon their being so stupid as to, pay $1 90 cents for a check apron, when they could buy a silk one for thirty cents.

This new man at the Clarion quill must eitherbe a fool or a knave, for we see he pens a violent article about the importation of cotton drillings for shirts of the laboring men, and cotton cambrics for shirts for the aristocracy, and then berates the whigs on account of the immense sum added to the cost of drilling on account of the duty! The man opens rich. Just read the following exactly as it appears in an editorial of the Clarion:

Also, chronic constitutional disorders will be removed by this preparation.

The proprietors submit to the public the following certificate, from a highly respectable source, of

NEW YORK, August 3, 1842.

"Messrs. Sands—Gentlemen: Under a feeling sense of gratitude inherent to us all when suddenly relieved from suffering and disease, I now, as an act of justice due to you, and with a view of relieving the afflicted, make known to the world the inestimable benefit I have received from the use of your Sarsaparilla. In the year 1832 I sailed from England in a vessel bound for Quebec, and while on the passage first discovered the disease which after proved to be a sore affliction; and truly I can say, from the crown of my head to the sole of my foot there was no soundness in me.' From the time arst bot suppers if wanted.

The location of the House being in the midst of DIZE, more particularly of LUMBER of all diethan ten years, I have suffered all that human nature was capable of bearing. I have been under the care of the most distinguished physicians both in this country and in England, visited Bath, Cheltenham, Bristol and Gloucester, tried various specifics, among others a large quantity of Swaim's Panacea, used sulphur baths, &c. As a last resort I was induced to wrap myself in a tar ointment, keep myself secluded, shunned by all, myself also have been hurried to the grave by having a counshipping. I was induced to believe my case a ing. I was induced to bel eve my case : hapeless one.

In August last, by the advice of friends, I went to the New York City Hospital, but was there told that my case was incurable. The disease now enveloped my whole body, rendering me almost helpless; the skin thickened and cracked, and blood and matter ran, and life itself became almost a burden. A few weeks since I was induced to use your Sarsaparilla by hearing it so highly recommended.hav ing spent nearly $3,000 without obtaining but little relief. After using it a short-time, I found myself better, and now, by using six or eight bottles, costing me less than ten dollars, I am well. Yes, I cer tify and declare to the world, that after spending near $3,000 in traveling and doctoring, and suffer ing more than can be told, I was perfectly cured by using your invaluable preparation of Sarsaparlila; and I now recommend it to all similarly afflicted. Those wishing to know further particulars will find me at my residence, No. 27 Warren street, New York, where I shall be happy to communicate any thing in relation to the above cure.

WRIGHT'S Indian Vegetable-Pills. The True Character of Counterfeiters and

Sellers of Counterfeit Medicines. O Medicine has been introduced to the American Public, whose virtues have been more cheerfully and universally acknowledged by its vast popularity, and extensive circulation. than "WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS."

To descant upon their various virtues at this late season would be a work of supererogation, since lew work peruse this article will be found unacquainted with the widely circulated proofs of the real excellence of the Medicine, to which many will be ready to add the testimonials of their own experience. But it further proof were needed of the value of the remedy it might be found in the fact that no Medicine in the market has been so shamelessly and repeatedly counterfeited. Ignorant, envious, avaicious, and unprincipled men, have in different places, manufactured a spurious pill, bearing a superficial resemblance to the true article, but composed either of impotent or deleterious ingredients, which they have sought to foist upon the public as the veritable Indian Vegetable Pilis.

These fraudulent Swindlers could never pass off their vile wares upon the public but for the connivance and assistance of self-styled respectable Teeth and Hair Brushes; Purse Clasps; Rings a Druggists, who, for the sake of a little "filthy Tassels; Hair; Shawl and Cuff Pins; Pocket W lucre," lend themselves to the monstrous and unhallowed system of imposition. The counterfeiter of a popular medicine is more criminal than a counterfeiter of current money. The injuries done by the latter sink to nothing in comparison with those inflicted upon society by the former. We might paint him wringing the mite from the hard hand of invalid penury which is extended for the boos of health, and receives instead the vile drug that protracts and aggravates disease, or to view it in its best aspect suffers it to rage unchecked. How terfeit substituted for the true Medicine; who but for the venal fraud might now be living in high health, the delight and hope of the social circle.— All classes are interested in putting down these vile Counterfeiters. Let the Stores where they are sold be marked and Shunned.

Let the virtuous indignation of the community administer to all concerned in these unfair practices a general and withering rebuke.

CAUTION:

The public will please observe that the genuine Medicine has the following wording on the sides of the boxes "WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS."

—Indian Purgative— OF THE NORTH AMERICAN COLLEGE OF HEALTH. And also, around the border of a label will be found in small type, "Entered according to Act of Congress in the year 1840, by William Wright, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the Eastern District of Pennsylvania." It will be further observed that the printed direction for using the Medicine, which accompanies each box, are also entered according to Act of Congress; and the same form will be found at the bottom of the first page. The slightest attention to the above few particulars will serve to protect the purchaser from fraud, and save the lives of those who may otherwise be
